
East
- 140 out of 149 (94%) concluded planning applications affecting playing fields resulted in improved or safeguarded sports provision
- Despite formal objections from Sport England, the number of applications which led to a detrimental impact on sport was 9 (6%)

East Midlands
- 109 out of 113 (96%) concluded planning applications affecting playing fields resulted in improved or safeguarded sports provision
- Despite formal objections from Sport England, the number of applications which led to a detrimental impact on sport was 4 (4%)

London
- 79 out of 86 (92%) concluded planning applications affecting playing fields resulted in improved or safeguarded sports provision
- Despite formal objections from Sport England, the number of applications which led to a detrimental impact on sport was 7 (8%)

North East
- 52 out of 59 (88%) concluded planning applications affecting playing fields resulted in improved or safeguarded sports provision
- Despite formal objections from Sport England, the number of applications which led to a detrimental impact on sport was 7 (12%)

North West
- 125 out of 132 (95%) concluded planning applications affecting playing fields resulted in improved or safeguarded sports provision
- Despite formal objections from Sport England, the number of applications which led to a detrimental impact on sport was 7 (5%)

South East
- 216 out of 229 (94%) concluded planning applications affecting playing fields resulted in improved or safeguarded sports provision
- Despite formal objections from Sport England, the number of applications which led to a detrimental impact on sport was 13 (6%)

South West
- 93 out of 102 (91%) concluded planning applications affecting playing fields resulted in improved or safeguarded sports provision
- Despite formal objections from Sport England, the number of applications which led to a detrimental impact on sport was 9 (9%)

West Midlands
- 104 out of 108 (96%) concluded planning applications affecting playing fields resulted in improved or safeguarded sports provision
- Despite formal objections from Sport England, the number of applications which led to a detrimental impact on sport was 4 (4%)

Yorkshire
- 110 out of 115 (96%) concluded planning applications affecting playing fields resulted in improved or safeguarded sports provision
- Despite formal objections from Sport England, the number of applications which led to a detrimental impact on sport was 5 (4%)