Planning Applications Affecting Playing Fields – Regional Breakdown 2021-22

East
• 166 out of 169 (98%) concluded planning applications affecting playing fields resulted in improved or safeguarded sports provision
• Despite formal objections from Sport England, the number of applications which led to a detrimental impact on sport was 3 (2%)

East Midlands
• 101 out of 101 (100%) concluded planning applications affecting playing fields resulted in improved or safeguarded sports provision
• Despite formal objections from Sport England, the number of applications which led to a detrimental impact on sport was 0 (0%)

London
• 70 out of 71 (99%) concluded planning applications affecting playing fields resulted in improved or safeguarded sports provision
• Despite formal objections from Sport England, the number of applications which led to a detrimental impact on sport was 1 (1%)

North East
• 61 out of 64 (95%) concluded planning applications affecting playing fields resulted in improved or safeguarded sports provision
• Despite formal objections from Sport England, the number of applications which led to a detrimental impact on sport was 3 (5%)

North West
• 173 out of 181 (96%) concluded planning applications affecting playing fields resulted in improved or safeguarded sports provision
• Despite formal objections from Sport England, the number of applications which led to a detrimental impact on sport was 8 (4%)

South East
• 186 out of 198 (94%) concluded planning applications affecting playing fields resulted in improved or safeguarded sports provision
• Despite formal objections from Sport England, the number of applications which led to a detrimental impact on sport was 12 (6%)

South West
• 100 out of 106 (94%) concluded planning applications affecting playing fields resulted in improved or safeguarded sports provision
• Despite formal objections from Sport England, the number of applications which led to a detrimental impact on sport was 6 (6%)

West Midlands
• 104 out of 112 (93%) concluded planning applications affecting playing fields resulted in improved or safeguarded sports provision
• Despite formal objections from Sport England, the number of applications which led to a detrimental impact on sport was 8 (7%)

Yorkshire
• 112 out of 118 (95%) concluded planning applications affecting playing fields resulted in improved or safeguarded sports provision
• Despite formal objections from Sport England, the number of applications which led to a detrimental impact on sport was 6 (5%)