Archery GB

What is your HE offer to universities?

The development of new university clubs and the support of existing university clubs is a focus for Archery GB within the Development Plan 2013-17.

There are over 50 UK university archery clubs affiliated to Archery GB (2014), catering for students just starting out in archery to those that perform on the world stage. University archery provides an opportunity for students to get involved in a non-traditional sport recreationally or competitively.

There are so many opportunities for new students to join societies and sports so why do they choose to do archery? University archery offers something for everyone. It’s a great sport to try as you can join a club with no previous experience! University clubs are keen to get beginners shooting quickly so you can enjoy it at whatever level suits you. Competitions are open to archers of all levels and provide a ‘novice’ category so you can shoot against other people who have just started out too. For experienced archers, university clubs provide; regular shooting opportunities, access to competitions, and of course a fantastic social side to university life.

Aims:
- Set up a new archery club at your university
- Develop your existing university archery club
- Develop an archery satellite club linking up with a local community archery club

Is the offer focused in particular areas of the country? No

If an HEI is not in a geographical priority area is the same level of support available? N/A

Is there a cost involved to the university in delivering your offer?

- If the university links with a local archery club:
  - the club may be able to help identify a qualified coach or leader to deliver archery sessions at a specified cost
  - many club coaches will provide club equipment to use

What level of support can you provide to the university if delivering your offer?

- Archery GB provides guidance and information on membership, venue, facilities & equipment, competitions, linking with the local community, risk assessments, coaching, insurance, funding etc.
- University archery clubs can take advantage of the support of a club development programme - on target
- One to one support from a member of the Archery GB development team

• Each county has a County Coaching Organiser who can provide support and information regarding coaching and coaching courses
• The County and Regional Associations also provide coach education and competitions. Clubs will normally affiliate to their County and Region to take advantage of these services.

Tegan Pickles: St Mary’s University
Sports Coordinator (& previous HE Officer)
“When I started in the HE role at St Mary’s the University had no Badminton provision. Three Years on the University now boasts two of the top NSB sessions in the country, two competitive student teams, an adult Badminton Club, junior programme, generates three qualified coaches per year, and approximately six volunteers.

Working as an HE officer for Badminton England opened up a number of fantastic opportunities for me. The role allowed me to develop my skills both within Badminton and Sports Development, and has allowed me to move into a full time role.”

England Boxing

What is your HE offer to universities?
England Boxing knows that not everyone interested in boxing wants to join a club or get in the ring and box competitively.

Whether they’ve been inspired by the Olympic Games or want to achieve the ultimate level of fitness, many people want to enjoy the benefits of boxing training in a familiar environment and without having to compete against an opponent. This is where BOX comes in.

BOX aims to provide an opportunity for everyone to take part in fitness studio-based boxing, and to experience the health benefits and sheer enjoyment of training like a boxer.

BOX Instructors are qualified to deliver a range of sessions that are progressive in nature and that encourage participants to continue and progress their training.

BOX is for everyone.

As a BOX Instructor you will be provided with access to further workshops, online learning and information.

To England Boxing, YOU are essential in delivering activity that will engage thousands of people across England to BOX.

Some of these participants may wish to take their interest further and become involved in competitive boxing. England Boxing will help you to signpost these individuals to a local club.

Is the offer focused in particular areas of the country? No
England Boxing believes that all areas of the country will be interested in using BOX as a vehicle to get fit.

If an HEI is not in a geographical priority area is the same level of support available? Yes

Is there a cost involved to the university in delivering your offer?
BOX Instructor training costs £100 per delegate, we can also subsidise courses run in HE, equipment can be purchased from £500.

What level of support can you provide to the university if delivering your offer?

As HE and FE are priority areas for the growth of boxing, we would look to subsidise the cost to Universities by bringing geographical groups of them together to train a pool of BOX Instructors.

Is it a new or existing HE offer? New

Any further relevant information for universities on the HE offer

BOX fitness is a fun way to become fit utilising Olympic fitness techniques. However, England Boxing Insight would suggest that for every 100 fitness boxers, approximately 25 will want to box competitively. England Boxing will help these participants to join a local club, or better still start to develop an affiliated boxing club within the University itself.

England and Wales Cricket Board

What is your HE offer to universities?

The ECB would like to assist universities in developing intra-mural cricket. We are aware that a high volume of players attend ‘trials’ but are not of the standard to play in BUCS competitions. We would like to help these students play cricket through the provision of two products:
1. Last Mans Stands – outdoor T20, 8 a side, hard ball, coloured kits.
2. Indoor Cricket Leagues – soft ball, six a side, different formats to suit ability and available time

Both offers could allow community engagement, growth (and revenue) to cricket society, minimal input from the university and potential capital investment (LMS).

Is the offer focused in particular areas of the country?

Yes – priority areas include Leeds, Bradford, Birmingham, Leicester and London.

If an HEI is not in a geographical priority area is the same level of support available?

Yes. Where a university is outside of our priority areas, we will endeavour to provide it with the same level of support.

Last Man Stands currently has a good (but not complete) coverage of the UK, however, if the demand existed in a new area, there is still potential to deliver a league.

The Indoor Cricket offer will be supported by County Cricket Boards and we have complete coverage across England.

Is there a cost involved to the university in delivering your offer

There will be costs associated to both offers for use of facilities (and kit in LMS) however, these costs are usually attributed to the participants and are recouped through match fees. Any funding from the university to subsidise match fees would of course be welcomed.

For the indoor offer, there may be the potential for volunteers to attend the ECB Activators course – again, there may be a minimal cost.

What level of support can you provide to the university if delivering your offer?

Last Man Stands – the support available through LMS is substantial. A designated individual from LMS will arrange venues, fixtures, umpires and scorers. The players just need to turn up and play. After each fixture, player statistics and rankings are added to the website (www.lastmanstands.co.uk).

There is also a possibility of ECB financial support (up to 100%) to install a non-turf pitch to improve university facilities.

Indoor Cricket – the level of support will vary depending on the local County Cricket Board, however, some assistance will be available centrally from ECB. The offer will also be supported through provision of ECB Activator course.
Is it a new or existing HE offer?

We have some good case studies from LMS and Indoor within HE from 2013, however, essentially, this is a new offer.

Any further relevant information for universities on the HE offer

If either of the two options appeal, we would welcome the opportunity to discuss with universities in more detail.

As mentioned previously, the level of support will vary depending on the location of the university, however, we are keen to work with all that are interested.

Both offers can be tweaked to meet the needs of the university as we are conscious that there is no ‘one size fits all’ solution.

Case Study from a university that you are currently linked to

LMS – Leicester University

- Student League (85% non-university cricket club players) and subsequent community league.
- Subsidy for students in return for facilities (for both leagues)

- Created links with Essex County Cricket Board
British Fencing

What is your HE offer to universities?

Fencing attracts people who may not otherwise be attracted to sport, is flexible in terms of space and facilities.
The plastic form of the sport needs limited training to deliver, is safe with small amounts of kit, and is easy to start
Coach development - British Fencing will pay for half the cost of a student fencer training to become a level 2 coach, providing: they are suitably competent before the course starts, will still be a student the following season, agree to be on the British Fencing coach register, are able to demonstrate an increase in participation at the university

Is the offer focused in particular areas of the country?  Yes

British Fencing are currently in the process of identifying 2 priority areas & employing 2 full –time regional staff members to support these areas. These are not confirmed yet but are likely to be in or near large cities with several universities.

If an HEI is not in a geographical priority area is the same level of support available? No

British Fencing has 10 regional hubs for training and workforce (coaches, referees, armourers, club volunteers) training. They all run regular training sessions and calendars are arranged locally, details on the British Fencing web site at http://www.britishfencing.com/development/regional_hub_network/

Is there a cost involved to the university in delivering your offer?

We would generally expect the university to match the funding from British Fencing to train students as coaches.

What level of support can you provide to the university if delivering your offer?

In our priority areas the new regional officers will help the university with finding suitable courses and ongoing support for the newly trained student coaches.
The regional hubs are there to support development so the regional hub officer in each region will help with finding courses or training for fencers

Is it a new or existing HE offer? Existing in pilot form

The best time for training courses is generally August, at least 2 of the regional hubs usually organise residential courses over the Summer break.
Optional - Case Study from a university that you are currently linked to

Leeds Metropolitan - the club was run by a student fencer who graduated at the end of academic year 12-13, the club has no other coaching staff and was in danger of folding.

2 fencers from the club, Jake Donaldson and Mia Hall, were selected and did a level 2 residential coaching course held by the South West regional hub in August 2013. The skills and qualifications they got have allowed the club to continue and for new fencers to get good coaching. The club now meets 3 times a week and has an informal competitive programme with other local universities and clubs.

Case Study (The University of Portsmouth in partnership with BUCS and the Hampshire FA).
Through effective partnership working and utilising the ‘HE Football offer’. The University of Portsmouth have been able to create a robust football pathway for their students, which has seen a significant impact upon football participants, student satisfaction and employability. The partnership started by agreeing regular meetings between the County FA and university and agreeing key development priorities. The university successfully applied to become a referee hub and the County FA supported by creating a tailored referee development pathway for their students. A University Football Activator was then recruited as part of the BUCS Football Activator pilot programme and this student was tasked with establishing a new small sided intra mural league at the university which was launched early 2013 and now has over 50 team and 350 participants. The County FA has also been able to offer mentoring support to the student Football Activator and has recently agreed with the Director of Sport at the university to base a Football Development Officer from the Hampshire FA at the university two days a week. In addition The University of Portsmouth have become a BUCS ‘Team Twenty Three’ deliverer and have recently been awarded £2,500 via the FA Community Hub Club fund to develop wider community engagement through the Universities ‘Up For Sport’ project.

We have developed excellent working partnerships with BUCS, The FA and County FA over the past 18 months enhancing our student offer and accessing additional funding which has resulted in significant growth in participation and the quality of our programmes”.

England Golf

What is your HE offer to universities?

The England Golf Partnership in conjunction with British Universities and Colleges Sport (BUCS) and Sport England, have developed a ‘Five Point Offer’ which allows golf to grow within universities, supported by the national ‘Get into Golf’ campaign.

The ‘Five Point Offer’ aims to recruit and retain new golfers, sustain the interest of current golfers and develop performance programmes in partnership with clubs and counties. This is supported by students increasing their skills and knowledge through volunteering, which can lead to employment opportunities.

The support available through England Golf and its partners will enable universities to grow student participation in a fun and exciting way, encouraging students to gain new skills and opportunities that will help them to develop as individuals in a game they will be able to play and enjoy for life.

Is the offer focused in particular areas of the country?

England Golf promote the ‘Five Point Offer’ through their network of 32 County Golf Partnerships (CGPs), who provide universities with the information and support needed to deliver golf within their institution. County Development Officers (CDOs) can provide support to universities in developing a plan to get more students active and will help to create a development programme that attracts young adults to get into golf as well as providing opportunities to retain current golfers.

If an HEI is not in a geographical priority area, is the same level of support available?

The only county currently without a CGP is Yorkshire, however nationally we will provide support and guidance to any Universities who show an interest in developing a golf offer.

Is there a cost involved to the university in delivering your offer? i.e. an Activator, equipment purchase/hire.

There are costs involved in delivering a golf programme but it depends on the number of students participating and the type of activity which is provided. The costs vary but usually start at approximately £400 for basic street golf equipment which will allow the establishment to set up informal activity.

What level of support can you provide to the university if delivering your offer?

The support from England Golf will mainly be staff support in setting up the university programmes and supporting the Student Activators. Each CGP has a limited amount of funding allocated to delivering planned projects within the HE/FE sector within their four year operational plan, which varies between counties. There are no funds awaiting allocation. CGPs may however be able to provide access to equipment.

Is it a new or existing HE offer?

It is a new offer that was initiated in September 2013 as part of our Whole Sport Plan 2013-17.

Any further relevant information for universities on the HE offer.

England Golf have produced a brochure on golf’s offer to universities, which can be accessed on the England Golf Website www.englandgolf.org

Case Study (Kingston University in partnership with Surrey County Golf Partnership (CGP))

Prior to September 2012 Kingston University did not have any offers for students to participate in golf activity. In an initial meeting between the university’s Director of Sport, Sports Development Officer and the County Development Officer from Surrey CGP, a decision was made to implement golf at Kingston and advertise for a Student Activator. They appointed a non-golfer who worked closely alongside the county officer, who helped her with the delivery of golf at two fresher’s fairs, attracting more than 100 students. Regular golf activities on campus were arranged, as well as golf days off campus at the World of Golf Centre, providing students with access to regular coaching. The Activator has recently trained as a level one coach. 300 students have since taken part in the golf programme and have continued to raise the profile of golf by running regular promotional sessions in the University foyer using a putting mat, holding golf events and other golf activities on campus.

The Activator day provides a good opportunity to share good practice and methods of the same objectives with contacts for possible friendlies. The university has bought in and provided hall time which has given the club support and a place to start”
England Hockey

What is your HE offer to universities?

Hockey offers Universities a layered menu of options which link together to support wider participation. Bristol University Students Feel the Rush – Case Study

We recently dropped into a Rush Hockey session at the University of Bristol to hear how members of the ladies hockey club are leading Rush Hockey sessions for students across campus. Taking place on a Friday evening in a local leisure centre sports hall, students of all abilities are able to get their weekly hockey fix on a pay as you play basis without needing to commit to training.

We caught up with Rachel, a member of the hockey club who is combining the 3rd year of her chemistry course with being a Rush Hockey Activator. Rachel first became involved with the University Hockey club after finding her halls were in a remote part of the city and after playing a little hockey at school thought joining the club would be a great opportunity to meet new people.

What made Rachel choose to become an activator and how has she found it?
It was a different way to be involved with the club and university and allowed me to sit on the hockey club’s committee. It’s a fun role, where I can continue to meet new people and it’s simple to do. At the same time I can develop my organisation and people skills where I am dealing with a variety of people.

How does Rachel encourage people to come along?
Its fun and you get to see all of your mates. You can play without commitment, so if you are busy you don’t have to come every week. The sessions are promoted by the club, Bristol City Community Trust and on the Rush Hockey website.

What advice does Rachel have for Universities thinking of running Rush Hockey sessions?
Run Rush Hockey! Rush Hockey is perfect for those players who may not want to commit to playing the 11-a-side hockey, plus its good for your fitness if you don’t want to go to the gym. A few of our 3rd and 4th team players also come to practice their hockey skills. The promotional items that you [England Hockey] sent us to promote the sessions went down well.

What do the players think?
Will is studying first year Medicine – “It’s so fun and the mixed ability and gender is good. The smaller teams are better as you get more game time and more touches of the ball”

Jo is a second year student and attending her first Rush Hockey session. – “It adds variety to 11 a-side hockey and it’s been a good workout. The bigger ball is much easier to control.”

Ted is a second year Pharmacology student. – “I love hockey and Rush is great as it’s more relaxed and the mixed teams are cool. Anyone can play the game, it’s easy to pick up and everyone is friendly.”
Lucy is a third year student and captain of the University of Bristol Hockey Club 4th Team. – “It’s not serious and just a bit of fun; you don’t have to be a hockey player to play!”
British Judo Association

What is your HE offer to universities?
Student Voucher Scheme (SVS), aiming to bring new people at universities into the sport through their university judo club or to be used to stimulate and start a new club at the university. The benefits to the university is that they get a heavily discounted offer for their students, support of the Service Manager and Technical Officer team and a long term sustainable plan to establish judo at the university or to invest in the existing club and improve that further. Within the offer, the student gets their BJA membership, their judogi (suit) and their first grading to red belt.

Is the offer focused in particular areas of the country? No

If an HEI is not in a geographical priority area is the same level of support available? Yes

Is there a cost involved to the university in delivering your offer?
No cost to the university but there is to the student. This is £20 for BJA annual membership, judogi and their first grading to 6th Kyu. A saving of £45.

What level of support can you provide to the university if delivering your offer?
The SVS offers Service Manager time in helping run the programme within the university with hands on support to the club. The Technical Officers give training and coach mentoring to the clubs to help improve standards and support with making sessions high quality, thus keeping players. Universities get access to the British Judo National University Competition programme which includes four competitions across the country aimed at players of all abilities. The offer itself offers equipment and membership at a reduced price (£20 per student). The universities also get a marketing pack with that including flyers and posters.

English Lacrosse

What is your HE offer to universities?

English Lacrosse has developed a “five point” offer as part of its ongoing support to universities and university lacrosse clubs. Universities can work with English Lacrosse to put together a bespoke support package to access.

English Lacrosse’s offer consists of the following to support student lacrosse participation:
- Provision of regular coaching support to introduce, develop and retain participants
- Provision of regular coaching support to develop existing participants
- Implement INTO Lacrosse a social, recreational competitive game ideal for informal participation
- Provision of education courses (coaching, officiating and leadership) specific to student athletes to encourage them to volunteer in the lacrosse club
- Mentor skills and develop volunteering opportunities for students

Is the offer focused in particular areas of the country?  No

If an HEI is not in a geographical priority area is the same level of support available? No

English Lacrosse looks to provide its full offer to all universities who wish to access it. However, in some areas where direct coaching delivery is required it is difficult to access EL’s coaching network.

In these areas, EL has provided assistance in training students, INTOgrators, and also providing coached sessions on a once per month or once per term basis.

This has enabled EL to foster strong partnerships in these areas where its own sustainable programme can be put in place.

Is there a cost involved to the university in delivering your offer

There are costs to access English Lacrosse’s offer which mainly include:
- coaching time for delivery of sessions
- course fees to access educational products.

English Lacrosse would work with each university to ensure that the costs are clearly articulated in each application and value for money provided.

What level of support can you provide to the university if delivering your offer

English Lacrosse can provide staff time to develop the lacrosse offer in each university and educational resources to support student volunteers who lead lacrosse activities.

English Lacrosse can also provide promotional materials for freshers fairs to attract students to lacrosse activities.
Is it a new or existing HE offer? Existing

Any further relevant information for universities on the HE offer
English Lacrosse has benefited from being the only NGB to receive Active University funding. This has enabled English Lacrosse to develop strong partnerships with universities and provide assistance to enhance students experience in sport.

The English Lacrosse Active University Programme has provided direct support to universities and university lacrosse clubs by:
- providing coaching support to introduce new participants to lacrosse
- working with university lacrosse clubs to train students to lead activities for new participants (informal participation, development team or intramural activities)
- providing coaching support to club teams to retain participants.

This work has led to increases in participation and the number of teams in each university lacrosse club. English Lacrosse is committed to the HE sector and looks forward to supporting universities in their Activation Fund applications.

Success: Student Lacrosse Participation Increase at Bournemouth University

“The inclusion of INTO Lacrosse at Bournemouth university has supported the growth and development of the sport within the student population tremendously. Allowing the activity to take place on campus and on 3G pitches at a time convenient to those interested in participating, has had tremendous benefits for increasing participation and enthusiasm towards joining the Lacrosse club for those wishing to further hone their skills!”
Barry Squires Assistant Head of SportBU

“INTO Lacrosse is a massive help in trying to introduce people into lacrosse. Just getting people to pick up a stick and start playing really lets them get caught up in the sport and then develop a serious passion in the sport. If this carries on the progress of the sport would be massive.”

Below is an account from an UNO, Stacey who was part of the pilot UNO scheme. She explains how she found the role as well as some of the things she achieved.

Why did you apply to be one of the first ever UNOs?
The opportunity to do what I love alongside my degree and have the added bonus of getting some NGB experience was something I couldn’t turn down and it has not disappointed me so far. If anything it has reinforced that this is what I want to do with my life.

What have you done so far in your role as an UNO?
In the first term we set up two weekly sessions and have seen 42 students attending. We also held a successful intercampus tournament just before Christmas. This term we have got a back into netball scheme. We’ve run a beginners umpire course and we’ve started to build some community links by getting involved with a local netball tournament.

What is the best thing about being an UNO?
The best part about being an UNO is the opportunity to help develop a sport that I’ve loved since I started playing. Going from having no recreational netball at the university, to having two sessions with regular participants is great, and knowing I’ve helped to do that is a great feeling.

What skills have you had to use in your role as UNO?
I have appalling time management and I’m completely disorganised! Having this role alongside my degree has been brilliant and has especially helped me to improve these two skills. Something that I can definitely take away with me!

What is next for netball at your university?
Within the next two semesters we’re hoping to just keep increasing the numbers coming through the door and making sure that everyone who does has a great experience of recreational netball at the uni. We’re already looking at the action plan for next year, I’d love to see an intramural league set up. I’d also love to see more community involvement.
What is your HE offer to universities?

Modern Pentathlon offer allows the opportunity to combine a multi-sport offer into one sport, choosing from 2 of the 5 disciplines to provide a challenge in new events, or combine different skills into one event with competitive opportunities and BUCS points available. Offers can be from simple taster days, Biathlons, Battle Biathlon, Modern Triathlon, Tetrathlon or Pentathlon with the new and exciting opportunity of the Run Shoot offer to be launched in the New Year.

With funding from Sport England, we are looking to targeted Universities to establish a voluntary student workforce of Pentathlon University Champions to create new and exciting student multi-sport opportunities.

Is the offer focused in particular areas of the country?

The following HEIs have been selected as a provisional list over the next 2 years, however PGB is open to dialogues with any interested Universities:

- University of Essex
- Cambridge University
- University of Nottingham
- Northumbria University
- University of Birmingham
- University of Bath
- University of Warwick
- Falmouth University
- University of Derby
- University of Manchester
- Royal Holloway of London

If an HEI is not in a geographical priority area is the same level of support available?
Not to the same level. Multi-sport activity can be supported with advice from Officers.

Is there a cost involved to the university in delivering your offer?

Generally costs associated with the offer would be coaches, equipment can be borrowed in the short term, but if regular and long term activity continued purchase of equipment may be needed. However officer support would be available to help with this. Facility hire would require depending on college provision and planned activity. However PGB will invest in priority Universities over the next 2 years under the Pentathlon University Champion project.
What level of support can you provide to the university if delivering your offer

Financial support may be available depending on the planned activity and the geographical area; however there would be staff support on hand to help and advise the running of the project and facilitate links to ensure sustainability. Investment in Pentathlon University Champions and new University activity

Is the offer focused in particular areas of the country? No

No – there would need to be courts local to the University if there aren’t any on campus, as delivery must be undertaken on a squash court.
ESR can potentially identify a coach if there isn’t one at the University or the University aren’t aware of any coaches in the area.

If an HEI is not in a geographical priority area is the same level of support available? Yes

Yes – all offers are available to Universities and can be adapted to the specific needs and demand at the HEI.

Is there a cost involved to the university in delivering your offer?
ESR ask the students to pay for the Big Hit HE offer, this covers the coach, drawstring bag and t-shirt – any shortfall throughout the 6-8 week programme will be funded by ESR. ESR will work with Universities to ensure the offer works for them. Please note – ESR will not pay for court hire when delivering this offer.

In other ESR offers there will be costs associated to them. These costs will vary from training fees for a tutor to deliver ambassador workshops, to coach fees to delivery an activity. To get an idea of costs, please contact Angela Cwaczko – FE/HE National Lead (details below) for further information.
What level of support can you provide to the university if delivering your offer?

ESR would support Universities delivering ESR offers through, marketing resource, equipment, training and coaching fees – this will be discussed when meeting your Regional Manager. The support is available throughout the year.

Is it a new or existing HE offer? Existing

The Big Hit offer is an existing offer which has been successful for 3 years.

If an HEI is not in a geographical priority area is the same level of support available? No.

The only difference in support between a university being situated in a priority area, or not, will be the amount of support they would receive from our Regional Participation Managers.

Is there a cost involved to the university in delivering your offer?

There is no cost to the HEI to become involved in the University Tennis Development Award programme.

The University Tennis Coordinator and Ambassador programme requires a 50% match funding contribution, which can range between £1,000 to £5,000 per annum.

What level of support can you provide to the university if delivering your offer?

All three levels of support in the University Tennis offer include financial support from the Tennis Foundation and LTA to the HEI.

Local support from our Regional Participation Managers is dependent on whether the HEI falls within our Priority Areas.

Otherwise, an element of central support from our national team will be made available.

As well as seeing participation consistently rise, Quentin Sloper, who manages the University Tennis Coordinator at Durham University, said the programme had “added a massive amount of vibrancy and completely transformed what the university does in tennis.”

"We feel the Development Award is the best offer of its type by an NGB to the HE sector. The process is simple and effective and has had an immensely positive impact on the offer our student tennis club can provide to its members. Social players have more court time and therefore more participants have been retained.”

STUDENT VOLLEYBALL!

Higher Education Offer
Higher Education Volleyball Officers

For the 2014-15 academic year Volleyball England will work with 65 Universities to implement our Higher Education Volleyball Officer (HEVO) Programme.

The overall aim of the programme is to implement a sustained and structured University volleyball network, through recruiting student HEVO’s to help deliver the following:

- Over 2000 students participating weekly through the programme
- Improve workforce development through qualifying students as activators, coaches and referees
- Build relationships with Universities
- Increase the number of university clubmark clubs to ensure a structured club environment
- Increase the number of students accessing high quality volleyball competitions (includes HEVOs running a mass participation festival)

The programme offers support in the recruitment and deployment of a HEVO to lead and coordinate the development of volleyball at the host university. They will encourage new participants to the sport and ensure a quality experience for all players, regardless of their ability, whilst maintaining a key focus on developing quality recreational opportunities based on the 4v4 volleyball format.

Benefits to the university are financial investment from Volleyball England to increase student sport participation numbers and improved student experience. Training for a student committee member (HEVO) leading to increasing employability skills, developing a strong working partnership with Volleyball England. National promotion of institutions through successful case studies with positive development reports shared with BUCS and Sport England HE Team.
Welcome to Volleyball!

Volleyball England’s Higher Education Offer provides universities with a range of opportunities. We are delighted that you are taking an interest in the only hi-energy, zero contact, mixed team sport you can play indoors and outdoors – whatever your ability!

Go Spike!

Go Spike is Volleyball England’s recreational way to play. It provides people of all ages and abilities the opportunity to experience volleyball.

It is based on a 4v4 game but can be played with as many people as you have available.

Go Spike volleyball can be played anywhere at any time - indoors, on grass or on the beach!

Set up and play with the Go Spike Game in a Bag. It’s the easiest way to play volleyball. The ribbon is your net, just tie it between two posts or a couple of trees, hold it, or even lay it on the floor. The ball is a blow up beach ball which can be inflated within seconds, it’s soft, and easy to use. Alternatively use the Go Spike ball, it’s a 230g softer ball that is ideal for beginners playing volleyball indoors or outdoors.

Competitions

Festivals
Competition keeps people playing, but it needs to be the right level and accessible. Set up a festival or a one off competition, invite current players and advertise in halls and round campus to get more interest.

Intra-Mural Leagues
The next step to a more formalised league is an intra-mural league, this can get halls, courses, staff and students to play against each other.

Volleyball England Competitions
- Indoor Student Cup
  The Indoor Student Cup is one of the biggest indoor student volleyball competitions in the country in which all affiliated colleges and universities are eligible to enter. Qualifying rounds are held in the North, Midlands and South in November/December with 16 Men’s and 16 Women’s teams qualifying for the Student Cup Finals held in February.

- Beach Student Cup
  The Beach Student Cup is the largest student beach volleyball event in the country. Each year, over 200 students take part in the competition during a weekend in June. The three categories are Women’s Doubles, Men’s Doubles and Mixed 4s.

For more information please go to the Volleyball England competition website.

BUCS Competitions
British University and College Sports (BUCS) run a university volleyball league between October and February each year. There are also a Championship, Trophy or Conference knockout competition. In addition, BUCS host a beach volleyball competition in October. For more information on BUCS volleyball competition, visit their website or contact the organisation directly.
Facilities

Volleyball can be played anywhere, so you need to know how to get the best out of your facilities

Indoor
- Practice courts
  Installing two practice courts width ways across the hall, sees the net space being doubled and many more students taking part. Although the court is only 18m wall to wall, this is fine for recreational and training purposes.

- Net Wall Slider
  These are ideal for halls where standard floor fixed posts cannot be used and when used in conjunction with the center prop post are ideal for a long sports net which spans the hall. The uprights are fully removable when not in use and slot into a floor plate and wall plate when in operation. The sliders and tensioner allows for the net to be adjusted in height for practice men’s, women’s and sitting volleyball

Outdoor
- Net systems
  Outdoor net systems are available to pitch up anywhere you have a bit of grass.

- Go Spike Ribbon
  Just tie up your ribbon between two posts, trees, lampposts, whatever you have and get playing.
Intra-Mural League

The University of Nottingham had an existing intra-mural league, but volleyball was not one of the sports.

Through the HEVO and club development, it was sold as a mechanism to raise awareness of the sport in the wider student population. With the opportunity for beginners to get involved in competitive volleyball!

The club recruited players from existing members and team players, as well as university societies, other sports clubs, and university halls.

The first league ran with 10 teams in the Autumn Semester and increased to 12 in the Spring.

For more information about volleyball development in HE institutions, please contact Amy Dennis (Young People Manager) by emailing a.dennis@volleyballengland.org or calling 01509 227722
